To Whom It May Concern:

I highly recommend Cammy Lopez, e Consulting, to lead and manage any corporate meeting, tradeshow or marketing event.

While CEO of Harcourt Achieve (Austin, Texas), a leading publisher of K-12 educational materials, I engaged Cammy to coordinate numerous sales meetings, marketing events and trade shows over a three-year period. Cammy was always a delight to work with in terms of her professionalism, competence, ability to quickly adapt to changes, and to not only manage to a tight budget but find ways to save on costs. Moreover, Cammy is a person of very high integrity, with a wonderful personality and great communication skills.

One very good example of why I am so impressed with Cammy occurred one year ago. In late autumn of 2006 a corporate decision was made to position Harcourt for sale, with the sales process and transaction ultimately occurring in 2007. This decision led to a late December 2006 re-structuring and downsizing of Harcourt Achieve which caused last minute major changes to our sales meeting, which was scheduled the first week of January 2007. Throughout this process, Cammy kept very sensitive information strictly confidential and worked around the clock at the last minute to orchestrate major changes regarding attendees, meeting agendas, travel itineraries and so on. As a result of Cammy's efforts, our sales meeting went off without a hitch and was a big success, even given the difficult circumstances. Cammy was a real trooper through a difficult period and, again, managed costs extremely well even when factoring in so many last minute changes.

I cannot say enough good things about Cammy and unequivocally recommend e Consulting.

Sincerely,
